

Jwetha & Juhi

One day there were two girls living with their parents. They love them and they love to play with toys. their names are Jwetha and Juhi. They saw a big bad demon coming with a dragon. They were going to kill their parents. They were scared. They were going to kill the demons and dragons. Suddenly the demons killed the parents. They started to cry and cry. Then they grew up and smiled. They were happy. They had fun. They were excited. They love the boys each other. Then they got married each other. And got daughter and daughter and hugged each other and they were happy.

By Lavanya, 6