Anything Man

Once upon a time there was a little boy called Jack who wanted to be a superhero.

He went on a bike ride...

and found a cave.

He went inside and found a box with anything man on it.

He opened the box and felt funny. He said I want to be a beautiful bird and he turned in to one.

Then he said turn me back into a person and he did.

The next day he started to grow.

He grew bigger and bigger until he turned in to a man.

He watched the news and he said
there's a bad guy.

I am going to see if I can defeat him
he was called Rhino Head.

Rhino Head had cursed a corona virus spell before he got out of prison.

Anything man broke the spell and defeated Rhino Head.

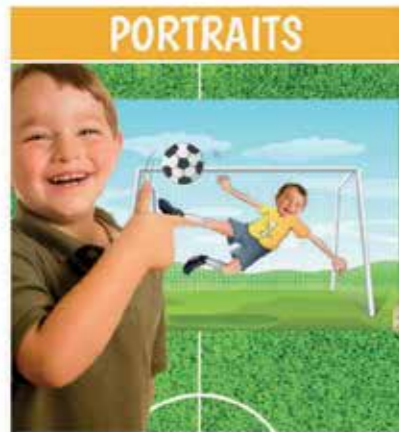

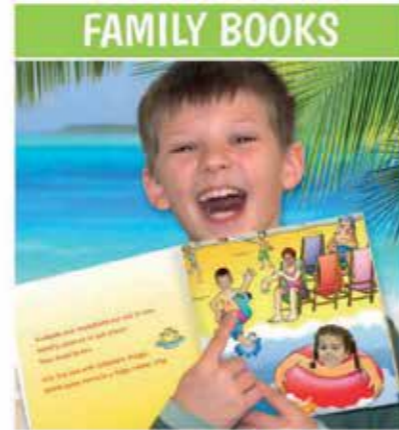

The corona virus has gone and everyone cheered for anything man!

The end.
