“Defeating The Ender dragon”

Chapter 1

The Arrival

With a pop, Bob appeared on a Minecraft World where things were peaceful. Bob looked out into the horizon and saw a village sitting there, so he decided to take a look.

When he arrived at the village, it was not what Alex and Steve had told him. It was full of little people running around and what people called an iron golem stomping through, protecting the village from hostile mobs. Bob decided to destroy some houses to get wood and built a crafting table. Then, with the remaining wood, he made some tools and a house. As Bob settled down for bed, he heard a zombie at the door, and then the sound of it being killed. The next morning Bob was awoken by the sound of zombies on fire and skeletons going up in flames. As soon as he opened the door, a zombie went at him but Bob was prepared and sliced the zombie in two, and picked up the XP and rotten flesh.

When Bob was taking a stroll that afternoon, he thought to himself, "If I am going to defeat The Ender dragon I need to get mining and it's going to be a tough life!"

Chapter 2

The Nether Fortress

Later that week, Bob was in full iron armour and had diamond tools. He just needed one more diamond and he would have full diamond armour. Quicker than anything, Bob had that diamond and diamond armour. He chucked on his gold helmet and jumped into the portal.

When he arrived in the Nether, he came face to face with a ghost that was asleep, flying. When he was within a 48-blocks radius, it picked up his scent and started breathing fireballs at him. No sooner had Bob dodged them than it shot another round. After a while, Bob finished it off with one last arrow.

Later on, Bob decided that before going home he would venture in the Nether fortress and find the enchanted golden apple. While Bob was wandering the fortress, he happened to bump into blaze spawn. As fast as lightning Bob took out his sword and attacked them. By the end, Bob had 17 Blaze Pods. All he needed it now was for some Endermen to drop their Enderpearls, but first he was going to explore the world of Minecraft!

Chapter 3

Get to the Woodland Mansion

Part I

As soon as he jumped into the village, Bob went straight to the cartography villager, and did a trade for the explorer's map. Bob knew straightaway it was going to be a long journey, so he prepared by getting a bed, some diamond things and a boat. He also brought a map so he could find his way back. As soon as Bob stepped one foot off the village, he realised he needed bones so he could tame wolves. Finally, Bob had set off with map in hand and travelled to the dark forest, also known as the home of the Spooky Mansion. While Bob was travelling, he set up camp in the middle of nowhere and had three dog companions. When the night came, Bob decided to take a stroll. He would bring one of the dogs for protection against zombies, skeletons, spiders, creepers, Endermen and phantoms. When Bob was taking his stroll, he came across a pillager outpost, so he went round there and freed the Iron Golems, but went up to destroy the chest as well. When Bob got to the top, he destroyed the pillagers and took most of the valuable items. Quicker than ever, Bob sprinted to the camp and fell asleep before the jockey caught him. When Bob woke up, he found the jockey had dropped an enchanted bow. Later that day, Bob tested out the bow and it set the cow on flames and it cooked the raw meat from the kill.

Chapter 4

Get to the Woodland Mansion

Part II

Bob collected the cooked meat and was on his way, but he made a trail so he could come back if needed. Bob found out he was almost halfway through the journey to the mansion and now he had six wolves for pets and did not have to hunt for more because his wolves were breeding pups. As Bob was walking, he came across a horde of 11 Endermen. He knew he needed their Enderpearls to make eyes of Ender, but he only managed to get seven of them. When Bob was just halfway, he came to a swamp and before he carried on, he decided to take a closer look and saw three witches' huts lined up next to the swamp.

When Bob arrived at them, there were three harming potions at each one, but the witch was nowhere to be seen even though the front doors were open. He realised that she had gone to the spooky mansion to get more potions. So Bob decided to get out of there before she came back and ran back to his wolves. For that he had to climb 15 blocks and got to see how the dark forest was getting.

Chapter 5

Getting to the Woodlands Mansion

Part III

Bob was at the edge of the dark forest when it turned to night. He set up another camp for the night along with his wolves. When he woke up the next morning, he could see giant mushrooms spread across the forest, and skeletons hiding under trees lurking in the shadows, ready to fire arrows at anyone who would dare entering the forest.

Later that day, Bob went underground, mining for fossils to add to his collection. He only needed one more day and he would be at the woodland mansion. Whilst he was mining, he found some diamonds, which made it possible for him to craft more diamond tools. Bob decided he couldn't wait any longer and continued his march to the mansion, arriving there by night.

Finally, right in front of his eyes was the famous spooky mansion. When Bob found the front entrance, he walked in cautiously, ready to repel any sudden attack. As Bob looked around, he heard a spider noise getting closer to him, and he turned around to find three spiders ready to pounce. As they all attacked at once, Bob dropped a block of TNT and ran away to the sound of explosions obliterating the spiders from existence. As Bob ran off, he stumbled upon an evoker. It was an amazing sight, but it made crocodile mouths jump up and snap at Bob. He had to face the evoker in a hard battle and when Bob defeated it, he realised that battle had only just begun.

Chapter 6

Battle of the Mansion

By the time Bob defeated the evoker, more vindicators and other residents of the Mansion started attacking him from every angle. He managed to fight them off but was left with only five lives. Bob found a secret passage and crawled through. It felt like it was going on forever but suddenly, he came across the chest. He opened it, and couldn't believe his eyes. There was an enchanted apple and a diamond sword with the enchantments: knockbackIV and fire aspect II, as a name tag. What he was looking for happened to stumble in front of his eyes. It was a Master Evoker carrying a totem of the undying. Bob chased the master evoker and smashed his diamond sword through the Evoker. It was set in flames straight- away and as it was on its way to heaven, it happened to drop the totem of the undying.

Chapter 7

Back Home

When Bob left the mansion, he made a massive map to find his way back and, on the way, he prepared all his stuff. The next day, any regard the stronghold and claimant for himself.

After all the enchanting, he decided to find a horse and ride it to the stronghold to make it quicker. He left there with six dogs and his horse and they were off. He had to make a track for Frost walker so they could cross the seas. Bob kind of knew they were one tenth of the way through. On their way there, one of Bob's dogs died fighting, but luckily, they got the trident. He then thought he should maybe start a fire and have something to eat. After that, he felt full up. He made sure the dogs and horses had something too, so they all had energy and could breed more wolves and horses. The next morning, he was ready to go and get on with the search - even though he knew it would take forever to find a stronghold. One thing was for certain, he was not on the right path.

Chapter 8

Finding the Stronghold

As Bob carried on with his journey he came across an abandoned mine-shaft and went inside to find the chest and spanner. When he was deep inside the mine-shaft he three and I have entered and it told him he was halfway there. Entering the mine-shaft, Bob went further and further and suddenly he was there with the chest. He continued and found an enchanted apple. Bob was so delighted he ran around the room, not noticing the skeleton beside him with full enchanted armour. When Bob finally noticed the skeleton, his heart actually stopped briefly. He quickly swung his sword out of his pocket and smashed into the armour- it made a clanking sound and the skeleton stopped. Bob knew it had just died then the skeleton dropped his bows and arrows and left for heaven. Later on Bob carried on the search and by the end of that day, he had found the beginning of the Stronghold.

Chapter 9

The Portal Search

That morning was the best morning of Bob's life. He had done it and he was at the Stronghold - it would take at least a week but it was worth it for 12,000 XP would be coming Bob's way so that would mean a lot of enchanting and a lot of good to use to fight and mine with. As he was looking for the portal room, he came across a library with the chest that was opened and it was and he couldn't believe his eyes there were so many different types of enchanting books he took them all.

Further on he met an army of zombies that he easily destroyed them with a couple of hits when he arrived next to the portal room he could hear silverfish spawning all the. Bob took all of them out with his hits and actually mined the spawned took a look around the room or saw some diamonds and mined them. The next morning Bob jumped into the end and then it was there he was at the end.

Chapter 10

End of battle

Part I

Bob had done it he was ready to battle to the end. As Bob stepped on he felt a dragon and he was in battle. Later he was just about to destroy the first crystal and he did it but the dragon breath hit Bob so hard he flew of the tower. Luckily Bob had enough time to place some water and landed on water so he did not lose any hearts. Quickly Bob held out a shield as the Dragon hit him again. Bob got to another crystal tower and as Bob jumped of he drank slow falling and but when Bob missed the other crystal using enderpearls to teleport up and hit it. He awkwardly uses his pickaxe to mine through the iron bars before the Dragon hit him with another off its breath fireballs. Sooner or later Bob might be dead he was on four a half hearts but he drank a portion of healthiness and he was back on 10 hearts. Bob suddenly had an amazing idea but it might leave him and the Dragon dead or alive. Bob thought to himself no one will ever do this except me. Bob the dragon-slayer. He had to try!

Chapter 11

End of battle

Part II

Bob stumbled into the light he saw the Dragon in the jet-black sky. As Bob went over his plan he accidentally looked at the ender man in the eyes it had attacked and then ran away but Bob hit it in the chest with the sword, and it dropped an Ender pearl. So Bob teleported to the crystal, destroyed it and was halfway down when Bob took a shot at the next crystal he missed but fired another and this hit the next crystal perfectly. The next Crystal was covered it iron bars so Bob had to climb up and destroy the iron bars before he could destroy the crystal. After that he had destroyed half of the crystals now he had only five more to destroy before he could kill the Dragon. So Bob shot at the next Crystal it hit perfectly, so Bob tried again but missed after that. The next shot hit perfectly now there are only three more to go.

In a matter of seconds Bob knew he would have all the crystals and be able to kill the Dragon but first he had to destroy the three that were left. Easily Bob took out the next crystal with his arrow now there was one last one but was just too hard to hit with an arrow. Bob had to climb all the way up to the top of the tower. When Bob was at the top of the tower he destroyed the crystal and then jumped down to attack the Dragon. Now Bob went over to the blocked up leave portal, where the Dragon was perching. Quickly Bob took out his diamond sword to hit the Dragon 100 times. The dragon was then on half health. Now the Dragon soared up into the sky but quickly came down and perched again. Then Bob hit it another hundred times and the dragon was dead - flying up into the sky as skeleton. The portal was not blocked up any more so Bob could leave but he needed to complete another mission...
