Chapter 1: An Unexpected Visitor

It was a cold day with wind howling in the November sky and droplets of rain hammering against the window pane.

Curled up in bed, Timothy was resting while his sidekick John was up and ready for action.

Slowly, he got out of bed and shuffled into his office.

They lived together in a small flat with an office, kitchen, bathroom and bedroom. Ambling slowly to his desk in his striped pajamas, he sat down, feeling dejected. It was a miserable day which affected his mood.

He opened his notebook and waited for a phone call or a visit from a customer. Bored, he rested his head on his cushion and started snoozing. There was an abrupt knock then silence. He shot out of his chair with an anxious look on his face. Could this be his first case in two years? As he slowly and cautiously opened the door, a young lady strolled in, surrounded by a cloud of perfume, making his nose twitch.

She had a soft voice and eyes like the ocean and was very pale - she had certainly been scared.

Quietly, she told them her dilemma while Timothy zoned out trying to picture the crime scene as Alice - their new client - described it.

Chapter 2: A Strange Attack

Alice was attacked by a gang when she and a couple of friends were out walking in the forest. Timothy shifted anxiously and peered over to John. Could this be the same gang that they had been chasing for such a long time?

“Are you ready?” questioned Timothy,

“Of course!” exclaimed John.

In an instant they dashed out of the flat and into their car, a beaten up Fiat Punto .

They sped away and after 30 minutes of driving at full speed they reached the crime scene in the forest. Timothy was extremely happy and was ready to take on this case.

The leaves rustled in the autumn breeze as he stepped into the crime scene. He had missed this atmosphere, he thought, as he got ready to study the forensics carefully, especially alert for any symbols that represented the Thunder Tigers gang.

Chapter 3 : The Thunder Tigers

There were many marks on a dilapidated wall which caught his attention. He knew all of this had to have a meaning. As he went further into the forest, he saw a shady bunch of people. The moon lit up the marks on their arms. It was the Thunder Tigers alright! His heart started beating faster at the thought of catching these nefarious criminals who had eluded him for so long.

Unsure if he should call the police, he decided to take matters into his own hands and called his trusty sidekick instead as he waited in silence.

“John, please come, I need your guidance.” Timothy was always losted without John.

Once they were together they scurried around the gang and noted everything they said.

He cautiously tried to get closer without being seen or heard, but he accidentally stepped on a branch.

SNAP!

Chapter 4 :The Unexpected Collapse

In an instant, the gang turned around but nothing was to be seen. It seemed whatever, or whoever, was behind them had disappeared. Timothy and John vanished like magic.

The gang was furious, especially when they found themselves surrounded by police and pushed into police vans.

Timothy had gathered all his evidence and called the cavalry to assist him. He was pleased with himself when he saw the group being huddled up into the back of multiple police cars.

“John, today we have completed our first case and brought down the most notorious gang,” Timothy said pleasantly.

“Yes sir we have reached a milestone,” replied John.

Timothy was very proud that he had played a part in capturing the gang which had assaulted and attacked many people. Now, they were where they belonged - a prison cell.

Chapter 5: The Trial

A few minutes later, he collected all his evidence in his briefcase. Today was an exciting day for Timothy Brown. He was attending the criminal hearing at last.

As he entered the courtroom (which he had not been in for a very long time) there was an eerie silence. There, standing at the podium, was the ringleader of the Thunder Tigers, with his tattoos on show.

Timothy suddenly felt nervous, as he had not done a case for such a long time. To comfort him he brought his lucky pen.

“Defendant please stand.” commanded the Judge.

“Detective Timothy Brown please stand,” he repeated.

After the ring leader’s lawyer tried to defend the actions of the Thunder Tiger gang, it was Timothy’s turn on the stand.

Even though he had not done a court case for over two years he was like a well oiled machine. Without even breaking a sweat, he spat out his compelling evidence.

Chapter 6 : The Mystery Explained

“M’ Lord, when I arrived at the crime scene, I saw the markings on the dilapidated wall. They immediately caught my eye. I knew that the Thunder Tigers had left a valuable message with their markings, implying that they would certainly return. As I stepped further into the forest, I called my sidekick John and we saw the gang.

They were clearly talking about something important.

We tiptoed closer and overheard them talking about their plans to rob the bank of England!

I immediately started to take notes. They heard us as I accidentally snapped a twig, but by the time they turned around we had gathered what we needed.” explained Timothy, delivering his points clearly.

It was now a waiting game for the Jury’s verdict.

Timothy's belly was tied up in knots as the jury recollected everything the defendant and Timothy had said.

Chapter 7 : World’s Best Detective?

The jury was fascinated by Timothy Brown’s findings and declared the ring leader as guilty. He was thanked a lot for his work to bring the most wanted gang down. He was elated with the result. He learnt to follow his gut and never hold back. He won many awards and was regarded as the best detective in the world. Now the cases keep coming in without him waiting anymore.

Timothy Brown & Co is considered the best private detective you can hire in town!
