Chapter One.

The Fox

Published by Father Christmas & Saronti Ltd

Once upon a time... there was a fox.

When the fox came out of his hiding place he tiptoed to the town and met a hedgehog and the fox and the hedgehog were best play mates (even though they did have a fight last week). But from that day on they were friends and played with each other every night.

The End.

Or was it...?

Chapter Two.

The Owl

One night when the fox and the hedgehog were playing tag a badger came along and asked if he could play.

He said, “my name is George.”

So they all played together all night and each and every night. When the sun was starting to rise George asked the fox and the hedgehog what their names were. The fox said his name was Pickadilly and the hedgehog said her name was

Megan and then they all went home after a game of tag.

And when they walked to the place where they had left each other last night George asked Pickadilly where Megan was and Pickadilly said she was sick so they played hide and seek together instead until day break. The next night Megan was better!

Just then an owl came along and said his name was Hooty. Hooty looked quite mean because his eyebrows were down. Hooty kicked Megan and nudged Pickadilly out of the way.

Chapter Three.

The Lesson & The Friends

Then Hooty flew over to George's den and stole his fish (that was supposed to be his breakfast!). But Hooty didn't care so he just took it.

But then Pickadilly got up and decided he was going to be brave.

He was going to teach Hooty a lesson. And that lesson was how to be..GOOD!!!

And from that night and onwards Hooty was GOOD!!!! Hooty was never bad again!

Well, almost never.

Right this is actually The End of the book this time. Seriously. I mean it. Right, that is it! GET OUT OF HERE RIGHT NOW!

Phew!

To Daisy

Thank you for leaving me your brilliant book to read. I loved it SO MUCH I thought I'd use a tiny bit of my magic dust and turn it into a real book for you!

Merry Christmas!

Love from Father Christmas

P.S I hope you like the picture I took whilst you were asleep!!!

One night four best friends were playing tag and one was about to learn a lesson!
