A Comfy Pillow

Written & illustrated by

Sydney Palmer

This story was written by Ms Sydney Palmer when she was 8 years old.

After wanting a dog for many years, the family finally adopted a retired racing greyhound, Dobby. Sydney wrote this story about her new friend.

Once upon a time, there was a dog who was born to be a racer.

There was only one problem, and it was a big one.....

The dog didn't like racing!

He didn't like racing in the sun, the rain, the snow..... not at any time.

But that was his job and so that is what he did.

The dog ran as fast as he could but only won one race.

The people decided then to give him away to a greyhound sanctuary.

The dog stayed there for months. One lonely and rainy night the dog wished he had something more comfy. Then he realized what he needed.....

A PILLOW!

The next day, 3 humans came to see him and took him for a walk. They talked to him and fed him some tiny sausages but then they had to leave.

The same things happened again and again until one day, they didn't leave.

They took him home with them.

The dog wasn't sure where he was going but followed them into the house.

There were lots of weird things the dog didn't understand... doors, mirrors and stairs but he had a BIG surprise.

The people had bought him his very own pillow. The dog was very happy and loved his pillow very much.

However, he soon learned that the humans had an even bigger pillow that they all sat on at night together.

They called it a sofa.... And the dog wasn't allowed on it, no matter how much he begged and cried.

But one lucky day, the mum let the dog on the sofa. He stretched himself out and had never been happier.

The humans gave him some soft toys to cuddle and watched a film with him. He also discovered movie snacks!

Now the dog likes to race....
He races his humans to be first on the sofa.

And he is always the winner.

The End
