Chapter 1- Zane's start.

Zane Mc' Adams was from Warrington, and he committed a serious crime - at this point in life, he was only 10. Zane was always a troubled child in pre-school, but the kids in primary school dislocated their fingers and more, but he was a very smart boy. He knew how to count to 1000 in Spanish, make robots, but best of all, he knew how to hack into computers and social media accounts! He was obsessed with video games, especially Steal a Brainrot and COD. He would play them all throughout the weekends with his best friends Cooper and Adam

Chapter 2- The wicked teacher.

He went to a boy only school with other troubled kids but one year he had a horrible teacher called Mr Gim. He would eat waffles in class drink Sprite and worst of all he would cancel all of Zane's lunch for going to the toilet he even had to eat lunch in the classroom with him Mr Gim, Zane, Cooper and Adam hated him and whilst Mr Gim was drinking his Sprite he wouldn't even let anyone drink anything not even a drop of water but if you did drink anything he would take your bottle even if you had a cough or a cold.

Zane had a mischievous plan to get Mr Gim fired!! He could hack into his Facebook account and post something extremely offensive and inappropriate. He posted something that the world had never seen. He uploaded a post about how much he hated children, how much he swore at them and that he wanted to get out of that school.

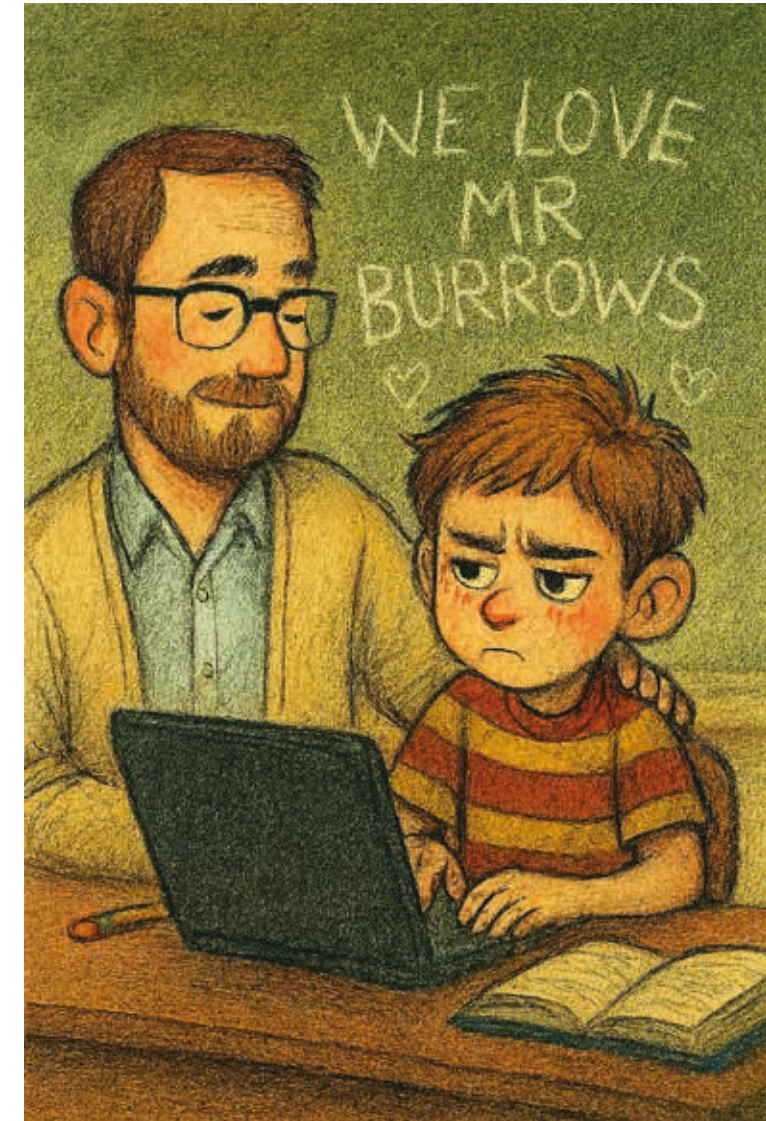

The next day, all the class found out he was fired. They all cheered and shouted, "GET IN."

Chapter 3- Zane's favourite teacher.

After, Mr Gim got fired the school found another teacher called Mr Burrows. He was the nicest most supportive teacher ever. He tried to help Zane with being a better kid and he appreciated it but did not take it on board. Zane really liked him and wanted Mr Burrows to be his teacher throughout the rest of primary school, but he knew that the end was near. He only had a few weeks till it was all over the best year just gone in a flash. He had to do something about it. But unlike always he did not have a plan.

He did not know how to convince the head teacher (Miss Ale) to go to year 6 with Mr Burrows. He could not convince Miss Ale, but he might have been able to convince Mrs Visad to swap classes with Mr Burrows but how? He finally had an idea, but he had to get Mr B involved and it was not that hard because Mr Burrows listened to anyone even people who did not go to Zane's school all he needed to do now was watch and listen. Mr B told Mrs Visad this, "That class of mine is hell you may as well quit know. There so nasty have you heard them talk they only get one lesson a day done sometimes they do not even get one lesson a day done. If you want to, I will have them for another year." Mrs Visad had a horrified look on her face and replied, "Yes, please PLEASE take them keep them."

Chapter 4- The brand-new dog.

Zane's birthday is tomorrow, and what he does not know is he is getting a new dog on his birthday (the 8th of September). On his birthday, he opened his eyes and saw his new dog Rocky he was a poodle. When he saw him, he gasped and happy cried. It was the best day of his life. His face was red, his eyes bloodshot and hands shaking in happiness. Dogs were the only thing in life Zane liked. He liked having his own best friend that he lived with. The training was a long process. Zane had to train Rocky at home and go to a professional trainer.

Chapter 5 - The eventful morning.

One dark and foggy autumn morning, Zane woke up. It was as boring as any other day. He got ready, ate his breakfast, scared his little brother Jacob to death, and brushed his teeth. Suddenly, he heard an enormous BANG! His house had got broken into he was stunned; an armed robber was in his house! He knew he had to do something about this dangerous situation. He had an idea...

He could get a pan to bonk him on the head and straight after call the police, but this is Zane we are talking about. He is no ordinary boy. So, he produced an evil plan to knock him out with a baseball bat, tie him to a chair, and when he wakes up, there will be a ring of fire around him but then he would call the police. The police eventually arrived at his house. Zane was scared because the robber had a gun and could fire it at any moment in time. The police eventually took him downtown to prison.

Chapter 6- The confusing crime.

So, Zane, his mum and dad went to the police station as witnesses of the crime. They stayed there for about one hour and a half but when they got home, it was...

Burnt down. The fire ring that Zane set up for the criminal had burnt his house down and the whole neighbourhood. He committed arson. But at first Zane did not own up to it. The police had to find out who did it. Zane said he did not start a fire. Nobody knew who it was except for Zane and his family. They were all terrified that their beloved son would go to prison they would not be able to sleep in the same house. He would have to celebrate his birthday in prison, and worst of all they could only see him through a glass wall. They soon found out who it was and. Zane was so sad that he had to go to a young offender he even had tears in his eyes (and that was not like Zane to almost cry).

Chapter 7- Welcome to hell.

Zane was sentenced to one whole year in that monstrosity. He was not the strongest child, but he was the smartest. He tried to find a way to hack into the computers, but the force field was too strong. He could not do anything about it. Young offenders was a horrible place. Zane hated it but did not want to be bad in case his sentence was lengthened. Zane decided to be not a troubled child for once. He was released after only six months for extraordinary behaviour (that is not like him).

Zane was free and out of the gates, but this is where it all comes to an end. Sadly, nobody came to pick up Zane. He was left to go home all on his own. He did not have a phone on him because the guards took it away and would not give it back to him without his parents' permission. Zane was so sad that he had to walk home from prison by himself. Suddenly, Zane remembered he had a bike with him. The guard took it off him, and he could get it back. Without a doubt in the back of his mind, Zane rapidly ran to get his bike. As quick as a flash, something petrifying, scary happened, something horrifically horrible. Zane died! He was devastatingly DEAD! A terrible car accident and Zane was run over.

The End

Written by Jorgie Brown, Age 10 — November 2025

Zane Mc'Adams was no ordinary boy. He was clever, chaotic, and full of surprises. His journey was wild, scary, and sometimes sad — but it was also brave. He made mistakes, faced consequences, and learned that even the smartest kids need love, support, and second chances.

This story is for anyone who's ever felt misunderstood, anyone who's ever had a wild idea, and anyone who's ever dreamed of writing a book.

Zane's journey may have ended, but Jorgie's is just beginning.

A Message from the Author

Thank you for reading my first book. I hope you liked it. I wanted to write something exciting, funny, and a bit dramatic — and I think Zane gave me all of that! I'm proud of this story
